Institutional Tuition and Fees Refund Policy

The College of Charleston authorizes reductions in tuition and fees assessed to student accounts for students who withdraw from the College or withdraw from classes. This refund policy applies to all courses subject to tuition charges, whether Undergraduate or Graduate level, and are applied uniformly regardless of the mode of delivery of the course(s) and regardless of the source of payment. The reduction in the assessed tuition and fees may result in an actual refund of payment/s received or a reduction in the balance due at the time of withdrawal.

Students who receive financial aid and subsequently withdraw from the College or reduce their course load during a refund period (see below) will be subject to the pro-ration of the assessed tuition and fees and may also have a reduction in the financial aid applied to their account. This may result in an increased balance due rather than a refund or reduction in the balance.

Tuition and fees that are subject to this policy are:
- Tuition (instate rate)
- Out of State Differential
- Part Time Fees
- Technology Fees
- Library Fees (per credit based fees only).

Course fees, such as science and language labs, physical education fees, music, arts classes, etc. are non-refundable after the end of the drop/add period.

Pro-rated reductions of tuition and fees are as follows:

Refunds to students will not be authorized beyond the periods stated above. Students who have withdrawn from all their classes due to circumstances beyond their control and seek a greater pro-rated refund than that provided in this policy must complete the Appeal for Refund (http://treasurer.cofc.edu/appeal-for-refund/index.php) prior to the end of the affected semester. The form and supporting documentation must be submitted timely in order to have the appeal considered.
